

Supposed Bioenergy Informational Processes During Therapeutic Riding

Karol Hornáček

ABSTRACT: Through applying Therapeutic Riding we have met up with all sorts of phenomena which, in our opinion, are best explained by the existence of bioenergy informational processes. The supposed bioenergy informational system consists of subsystems: the protective energy covering of the body – the aura; the system of energy centers – the chakras; the system of acupuncture meridians, points and microsystems of the ear, foot, etc. We have based our conclusions on both the theoretical work of the professional public /supposed existence of sensors for very low magnetic field/ and our own practical experiences. In our opinion, during therapeutic riding exist transfer from energy field of the horse to the patient and vice versa with a energy complementation on the patient. Also we suppose an important effect on the first chakra and we predict an acupressure stimulation of acupuncture meridians and points.
